

UNCLE SAM'S LITTLE WAR IN HAITI: DEAD
REBELS LYING ON GUN WHERE THEY FELL

Haiti, the little negro republic in the West Indies, caught the spirit of the times and started a little war on her own account. Rebels overturned the government and captured the capital city and riot and bloodshed reigned supreme until Uncle Sam stepped in and put a stop to it. He had to kill a few of the rebels before they would recognize his might. Picture shows what happened to two of the brigands who dared to face the U. S. marines.

Today's Entries a Sort of Family Affair: Two Entries by Knight of Strathmore of Famous Memory in 2:15 Pace

Today's harness events will be a sort of a family affair. In each of the three races there are at least two entries by the same sire, and in one—the 3-year-old trot, there are four horses each pair having a common sire. Irene Strathmore and Miss Emily are both by the famous Knight of Strathmore, which was driven to a new mark on this track last year. Navajo and Dr. Davidson are both by Dr. Clark of local fame.

In the 2:15 pace, Raya de Oro and Contention B are both by Copa de Oro, which set some fast miles on this track in the early days of the state fair.

Among the three year old pacers are Vinnie B and Roxie D, both by Leonard D.

ROPING FINALS START THIS P.M.

Thirty-one Punchers Fail to Qualify in Two Days' Trials; Fourteen Start in Finals This Afternoon; Good Time Made

Thirty-one cow punchers aspiring for the $200 that goes with the victor in the roping contest, failed to qualify in the preliminaries yesterday. About the same number failed to make the throw Monday afternoon.

The consolation roping, for the participants who failed to qualify, will start Thursday afternoon.

The following are the men who will be on hand this afternoon to try out in the finals:

ANNUAL MEETING OF YALE MEN SATURDAY

The annual dinner and meeting of the Yale Alumni Association of Arizona will be held at the Arizona club Saturday evening at 7:30.

Members of the association from all over the state have signified their intention of being present and from all indications this meeting is going to be one of the most successful ever held.

President B. A. Fowler will act as toastmaster.

As a novelty the club has arranged with the management of the Columbia theater to exhibit motion pictures showing scenes from the past year's activities at Yale. The film has just been completed and among other things includes scenes from last year's game with Harvard, the historic race on the Thames and the new stadium.

All Yale men in the city are requested to be present, and to notify S. P. Jennings, 317 Fleming building, of their intention.

DUCKS AT FLORENCE

A report came in late last evening by a local man from Florence that the ducks were thick on the Florence reservoir. Many hunters return home with bags full. Cold weather brings lots of big ducks, such as mallards, canvas backs, and red heads. Bill Catlin had good luck on green heads the other morning when he got ten down near the brush dam.

From 1903 the people of Rhode Island and lived under a charter granted by Charles II, according to which only those owning a certain amount of property could vote. A desire to change this provision arose and in 1841 two parties were in the field, the "Suffrage" and the "Law and Order." Each party determined to control affairs.

Each elected its own state officers. Thomas W. Dorr was chosen governor of the "Suffrage" party. He took possession of the state arsenal. The militia was called and he was forced to flee. In a second attempt the party was downed by United States troops and Dorr was arrested, convicted of treason and sentenced to life imprisonment, but soon was pardoned. This was Dorr's rebellion. A free constitution was adopted by the people while Dorr was imprisoned.

Castilians is to be screened under the name of the Troubadour. It is a production of the Universal studios and is said to be a cleverly abbreviated version of the immortal Carmen.

At The Plaza.

The Black Box serial has a run at the Plaza today, as well as Circus Mary, which features Mary Fuller. There will be one good comedy at the Plaza today. The Plaza is still improving, a new 35 lb. Powers projecting machine is being installed, and in a few days 400 opera chairs will be put in.

Crowd at Coliseum

Armstrong and his Baby Dolls were forced to turn away the crowd at the Coliseum last night. At the Coliseum can be seen the only real living September Morn, and the show was appreciated by every one who attended the popular playhouse. Edith Wilma, Jean Jarvis, Dot Claire and Lillian Godwin can be seen at their best, for each and every one of them is singing late songs. Ed Armstrong and Chas. Byrne furnish the comedy of the show.

Tonight as a special added attraction the Baby Dolls will each don a specialty of their own to compete for prizes, and the winner will be judged by the amount of applause they receive.

MARY MILES MINTER AT EMPRESS TODAY

The flower of the screen, Little Mary Miles Minter in the beautiful story, "Emmy of Stork's Nest," a five part feature. "Emmy of Stork's Nest" in brief is, a counterfeiter's mountain den; a free wild girl of the woods and fields; a city man, whose fashionable clothes at first cause her intense amusement, but whose personality earns her respect and then her love; an interrupted note; a misunderstanding; a desperate chase by a sheriff; a fatal plunge over a towering cliff; and the final explanation that clears up all, make a story brimming with thrills and romantic interest.

AMUSEMENTS

JULIUS STEGER IN THE 'MASTER OF THE HOUSE'

At the Lion theater today, the Equitable feature production of "The Master of the House" will be shown, and patrons of that house will have an opportunity of seeing that famous dramatic actor, Julius Steger, in his first screen effort, a picturization of his stage success.

A special cast of Broadway players was assembled in support of Mr. Steger, and the scenes are elaborate in the extreme.

"The Master of the House" will be shown today and tomorrow, while on Friday the Lion will present Mrs. Fiske, in "Vanity Fair."

Blanche Sweet in The Secret Orchard Heredity is the principal theme in Blanche Sweet's new starring photoplay, "The Secret Orchard," from the play by Channing Pollock, founded on the novel of the same name by Agnes and Egerton Castle, and produced by the Lasky Feature Play Company, which is the attraction at the Arizona tonight and tomorrow only.

Not even a childhood and girlhood seclusion in a convent could neutralize the latent taint of character stamped upon the heroine of "The Secret Orchard." This secret weakness is intensified through contrast between the natural loveliness of the girl's personality and the sweetness in her manner.

The South American travel pictures are also included in the above program. Owing to this being fair week, the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will not be given. Sunday the matinee will be at the regular time with a special feature.

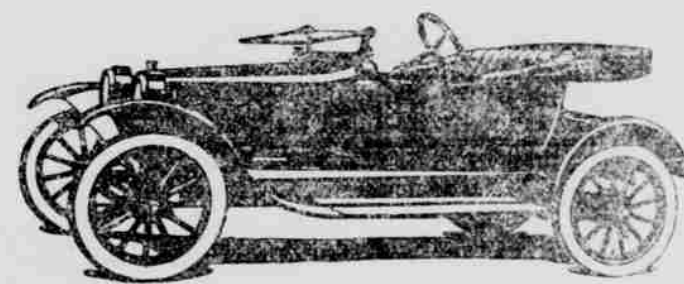

Lamara Theater

A Gold Rooster play in five acts, together with appropriate music by the Lamara orchestra, is the feature program for today and tonight at the theater comfortable. The story is "The Spender," by George Brackett Seltz. It tells of a young, reckless, tremendously rich young man who is careless in his expenditures and hence incurs the enmity of paterfamilias and is "chucked out."

The Troubadour

Just now when every paper is filled with the two productions of Carmen and opinions are flying thick and fast as to which is the greatest of the offerings, the picture patrons naturally drifts to the story of the Spanish coquette. Today at the Amuzu an adaptation of the sublime love story of the
